ner host on Wednesday, when he entertained for eighteen. The affair took place in the artillery bachelors' mess, which was decorated with quantities of Japanese lanterns for the occasion. White chrysanthemums in feathery masses combined with ferns formed the decoration of the long table, and on the walls of the room the long fern fronds were banked, a deliciously cool and dainty bower effect being attained. The guests were Capt. and Mrs. William Mapes, Capt. and Mrs. William Chitty, Lieut. and Mrs. Harry Phell, Capt. Harry Williams, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Daly, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Daly, Mrs. Henry Lantry, Capt. Leo Mudd and Lieut. and Mrs. Ballard Lyerly, Joseph Andrews and George Gay.

Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Daly have had as their house-guests since the arrival of the transport, Lieut. Daly's brother, Lieut. Charles Daly, Mrs. Daly, their two little children and Mrs. Ellen Jordan, Mrs. Daly's mother. They will have the quarters formerly occupied by Lieut. Harold Huntley, Lieut. Daly having been assigned to the 1st Battalion of the 1st Field Artillery.

Lieut. and Mrs. Herman Eriksen, recently arrived members of the 1st Field Artillery, are staying with Capt. and Mrs. Henry Kibbourne until they can move into their quarters. Mrs. Rene De Russy Hoyle, wife of Lieut. Hoyle of the 1st, arrived last week with their two children and will be guests of Mrs. Hoyle's father, Col. John Gullfoyle, until Lieut. Hoyle's arrival in March.

Gen. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong, who arrived by liner last week, are settling in their quarters, the old ranch house, recently remodeled.

Mrs. Donald Hay, with her little daughter, Caroline Christopher, will return to the garrison on Sunday.

Lieut. and Mrs. John Hauser's dinner guests on Wednesday were Capt. and Mrs. Charles Lloyd and Capt. John Kilbreth.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the evening bridge party given by Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall on Monday evening, when they entertained for 45 of the officers and ladies of the 4th Cavalry. The attractive Hall quarters were rendered very Christmasy by the many brass bowls and jars of brilliant poinsettias placed about the rooms. The progressive game of auction was enjoyed during the evening, with high scores held at the end by Mrs. Rawson Warren and Lieut. Seth Cook. Lieut. Eugene Owen, with a very low score, was given the consolation, which was a brass paper cutter. The first prizes were a pair of brass candlesticks and a brass pen rack in the shape of Japanese torii. The guests were Col. John Gullfoyle, Col. and Mrs. William Forsyth, Maj. and Mrs. John O'Shea, Miss Sue Holcomb, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Day, Capt. and Mrs. James Fecht, Capt. and Mrs. Gordon Kimball, Capt. and Mrs. John Fair, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Short, Lieut. and Mrs. William Gardenhire, Lieut. and Mrs.

Charles Naylor, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. St. Claire Baumgartner, Lieut. and Mrs. Seth Cook, Lieut. and Mrs. Alexander Milton, Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome Pillow, Lieut. and Mrs. Roland Gaugler, Lieut. and Mrs. Phillip Kieffer, Lieut. and Mrs. Rawson Warren, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Donaldson, Lieut. and Mrs. William Prunty, Mrs. Henry Lantry, Dr. and Mrs. Callender, Lieut. William Dorman, Eugene Owen and Wallace Hall, and Mr. John Macaulay.

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Edward Carey entertained with a much enjoyed auction party of five tables, which was given in honor of Mrs. Alexander Patton, house-guest of Mrs. Thomas Lowe. The ladies invited for auction were Mesdames Patton, Miss Patton, Clarence Day, John Reardon, William McCleave, D. L. Howell, Howell Clinton, Frank Albright, William Forsyth, Clyde Crusan, Joseph Daly, John Fair, Madame McCleave, Fred Bitts, Walter Graecen, Thomas Lowe, Jerome Pillow and Byard Sneed. The playing game was played with final high scores held by Mesdames D. L. Howell, Howell Clinton, John Fair, Thomas Lowe and William McCleave, and the prizes proved to be lovely little lacquer boxes. Later Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon and Mrs. Harry Knight came in for tea, which was served from a dainty tea table decorated with pink carnations and Shasta daisies.

Lieut. Kenny Palmer of the 1st Field Artillery, who recently was operated upon for appendicitis at the Department Hospital, has so far recovered as to be able to return to the post, and is being heartily welcomed back by his many friends.

Mrs. Percy Deshon gave on Friday afternoon a bridge-tes in honor of her mother, Mrs. C. O. Ellis of El Paso. The ladies invited to meet her were Mesdames Roger Mason, Miss Norma Mason, Mrs. Mason, Henry Lantry, Joseph Daly, John O'Shea, Miss Sue Holcomb, Frank Keefer, Truby Martin, William Chitty, Clarence Day, Pelham Glassford, Chalmers Hall, Roland Gaugler, Arthur Cassela, William Forsyth, Seth Cook, Harry Phell, John Hatch, Harold Vandever, John Haver, Bell, Henry Kibbourne, Herman Eriksen, and the Misses Carrie and Esther McMahon.

On Saturday Mrs. Frank Albright will entertain at auction bridge and tea for Mesdames L. W. V. Kennon, Benjamin Edger, Lewis Sorley, Henry Lantry, John Boniface, John O'Shea, Sue Holcomb, William Mapes, Robert Harold, Vernon Caldwell, George Kumpke, William Sinclair, Joseph Daly, Edward Carey, Henry Wygant, Carl Ballinger, Jerome Pillow, Byard Sneed, Madame McCleave and Truesdale, and Edmund Butts.

Mrs. Alexander Patton and Miss Edith Patton, who have been the guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Love of the 1st Infantry, will spend a few days in Honolulu, directly after Christmas, at the Pleasanton before sailing on the Matsonia early in January for the Coast.

Other passengers from Schofield aboard the Matsonia will be Mrs. J. B. Pillow and Mrs. W. W. Heatherington, who have been the guests for some weeks of Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome Pillow of the Cavalry.

Capt. George de Grasse Catlin gave a dinner on Friday in honor of Col. and Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon, who are soon to leave Hawaii. Invited in their honor were Capt. and Mrs. Americus Mitchell, Capt. and Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Mrs. Howell Clinton and Lieut. and Mrs. Livingston Watrous.

On Monday night Col. and Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon will give a reception at their quarters in honor of the new commanding general and his wife, Col. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong. A large number of invitations have been issued.

On the 30th of December the officers and ladies of the 25th Infantry will entertain the entire garrison at a reception and dance, to be given at the 25th Infantry ball, in honor of their departing commanding officer and his wife, Col. and Mrs. Lyman W. V. Kennon.

Spring Styles "Youthful." CLEVELAND, Ohio.—"Short, full, and youthful" will be the spring fashion for women's wear as a result of the decision of the style committee of the National Cloak and Skirt Manufacturers' association made public at its closing session here.

Skirts will be short and full and coats will be shorter. Because of a lack of materials and dyes, due to the war, which has stopped imports from abroad, colors and textures will be less varied, but the designer will make up for this with a wide range in cut and trimming.

Tucks and frills will emphasize the Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nottage.

STANFORD GLEE CLUB COMING. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munt Tomkins return.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION DINE AT UNIVERSITY CLUB on Tuesday evening, observing the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers in 1620.

skirt fullness. Ripple effects will be good. Checks and stripes in all materials will be favorites, while dark plain colors trimmed with vivid shades will be fashionable.

Pockets on skirts and cuffs on sleeves of bold design in prominent color contrasts will be a feature. Garments for middle aged women will be almost as jaunty as those for college girls.

Belted effects and deep yokes in separate coats will emphasize this tendency and no wardrobe will be complete without a sports coat.

The new styles were shown by living models before the delegates and were accompanied by many "ohs" and "ahs" as the new creations were shown.

STANFORD MEN EN ROUTE. More than a passing interest has been shown in the visit which the Stanford Glee Club is to pay Hawaii in the near future.

The songsters left San Francisco on the Great Northern Thursday and will arrive in Honolulu next Thursday. On the night of their arrival they are to give a concert at the Hawaiian Opera House, and will remain here until the departure of the Hill liner.

The Glee Club men have made quite a reputation for themselves in the Middle West and Northwest and from all accounts of their work they will no doubt find favor with Honolulu music lovers. Their work will include classical selections as well as the ever-popular college songs.

Socially the visit of the glee club will be quite an event in the week's affairs. Stanley Kennedy, a former Stanford man, is taking charge of the arrangements for the concert and "Kelley" Henshaw, Walter Argabrite and a number of other ex-Stanford men will do what they can to make the visitors enjoy Christmas in the tropics. There are 26 members of the glee club and four "stunt" men.

MISS PAULINE SCHAEFER A HOSTESS. A very delightful affair of this week to which members of the younger set were bidden, was the dance at which Miss Pauline Schaefer entertained on Monday evening at the F. A. Schaefer home in Nuuanu valley.

Miss Katherine Hannington of Denver, Colorado, who is spending some weeks in Honolulu, was the guest of honor at the affair.

The decorations were unusually pretty and were a combination of yellow, green and red, the colors which are so symbolic of the season. The drawing room and lanai were hung with huge baskets, some filled with great yellow chrysanthemums and others with African daisies and maidenhair ferns. A Hawaiian quintet club played for the dancing and at 11 o'clock refreshments were served.

The following were invited guests: The Misses Kathrine Hannington, Ruth Anderson, Mary von Holt, Hilda von Holt, Marie Ballentyne, Dorothy Guild, Ruth Soper, Harriet Hatch, Beatrice Castle, Sara Lucas, Ruth Chesney, Florence Hoffman, Jessie Kennedy, Mary Lucas, Harriet Lucas, Myrtle Schuman, Helen McLean, Marion Chapin, Geraldine Berg, Ruth Richards, Nora Sturgeon, Betty Case, Laura Atherton, Letitia Morgan, Vivian Buckland, Hazel Buckland, Rose Herbert, Alexa von Tempsky, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clark, Lieut. and Mrs. Howard Douglas Bode, Judge and Mrs. William Lymer, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nottage.

Messrs. George Fuller, Douglas Young, J. O'Connor, R. Clark, Eberly, H. Hoffman, C. Henoch, W. Pfleger, W. Argabrite, W. Ballentyne, R. Purvis, C. Franklin, W. Warren, Dr. Hooper, B. Clark, Bob White, Vivian Dyer, P. Brown, Kit Carson, W. Spalding, P. Spalding, S. Kennedy, Gray Zabriskie, Dr. Braly, A. Brown, French, A. Dredge, L. Werks, D. Larson, S. Pratt, Jim Morgan, W. Ouderirk, O. McCormick, M. B. Henshaw, A. Lowrey, F. Wichman, Ed. Hedemann, Erling Hedemann, G. Ahlborn, Watt Love, B. von Tempsky, J. P. Morgan and Fred Schaefer.

Dinner at the Country Club. One of the elaborate affairs of this week is the dinner at which Maj. and Mrs. Charles A. Ragan of Fort Ragsdale are entertaining at the Oahu Country Club this evening in honor of Mrs. Ragan's sisters, Miss Dell McLeve and Miss Lillian McLeve. The guests of honor came to the islands in the Matsonia and will spend several months at the post.

Mrs. Ragan is one of the most charming of the army matrons and since her arrival at the post has been hostess at several very attractive functions. For her affair this evening she will have as table decorations vari-colored sweet peas combined with lacy maidenhair fern, and at the place of each lady there will be a corsage of ferns. Daintily decorated cards will mark the places, which will be laid for Miss Della McLeve, Miss Lillian McLeve, Gen. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong, Col. R. G. Ebert, Maj. M. A. De Laney, Miss Schmidt, Maj. and Mrs. Frederick Reynolds, Col. and Mrs. F. R. Keefer, Col. and Mrs. W.

P. Kendall, Capt. and Mrs. Frederick Phisterer, Maj. and Mrs. Bloomberg, Maj. and Mrs. P. C. Fauntleroy, Capt. Hatch, Mrs. McGowan, Miss McGowan, Capt. C. Mitchell, Capt. Johnson, Capt. S. S. Creighton, Lieut. and Mrs. Richard Kimball, Lieut. and Mrs. George Halloran, Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Applein and the host and hostess.

Dance at the Pleasanton. A very successful dance was held at the Pleasanton hotel last Monday evening. A number of dinner parties were given before the dance, at one of which Mr. H. B. Veller was host.

Mr. Walter Dulsberg also entertained a number of guests informally before the dance.

Mrs. Morley a Hostess. Mrs. D. Morley was hostess at an informal dinner on Thursday evening at the Pleasanton hotel. Pink roses figured in decoration. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mr. Will McInerney, Mr. H. Cushman Carter and others.

SOCIAL NOTES. Mr. and Mrs. Ranney Scott have planned an informal New Year party to which they are inviting a number of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swamy entertained informally at dinner at Heinle's Tavern on Wednesday evening for a number of their friends.

Mrs. Randolph Moore is entertaining as her house-guest Miss Hazel Hoffman of Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Hoffman has been in Honolulu a little more than two weeks and will remain here for some weeks.

A bill to restrict rent will soon be introduced in the British parliament. The rates are at present increasing, and threaten to drive the poor into the streets.
